THE COMMAND DECK FOR MULTI-STORE RESELLERS

Sell it once.
It's gone everywhere.

One-of-a-kind items live on every store at once, and a single unit can sell twice. The second sale turns into a cancellation, a defect, and an apology. ValeSync holds one true inventory across your connected stores. When the last unit sells, ValeSync pulls the listing from your other connected stores on its next sync check, every 15 minutes on Starter, faster on higher tiers.

- Built on the tracker that runs Verdant Vale's own 120+ product store every day.
- Built for eBay sellers first, more stores in the rollout, listed at verdantvale.org/valesync.

How ValeSync works

Four steps between a sale and a clean delist, on every store you run.

1

Connect your stores

Link the platforms you sell on. Every listing flows into one master inventory, one quantity that tells the truth.

2

ValeSync keeps watch

Your sales channels are checked every few minutes through the platforms' own systems, day and night.

3

Sell once, delisted everywhere

When your last unit sells on a connected store, ValeSync pulls the listing from your other connected stores on its next sync check, and logs the pull. Built to end the oversell, the cancellation, and the apology tour.

4

Run the Command Deck

Your inventory table, a live ticker of incoming offers, and your pack and ship queue, all on one red and black screen.
